Not many opportunities will offer you so much freedom: freedom to bring your expertise into play; freedom to have your voice heard and the freedom to take it all as far, or as high, as you want.

Our business continues to grow, and you'll be key to driving that process as part of the recently established team who are set to take us to the next level.

With MI experience, you'll bring the expertise we're looking for, along with clear vision. If you're also a confident and persuasive communicator, this is where your voice will be heard. It helps that we can offer a wealth of benefits that are better than most.
